> PROFESSIONAL SOLUTIONS FOR INVESTMENT BANKING AND LEASING

Since 2000, we have been developing software for the financial sector.

We have acquired professional know-how in the area of the design and development of systems used for the management of assets, securities, private banking services, fund management and distribution and expertise in the creation of modern front-end systems for leasing companies.

Our professional experience forms the basis of our highly efficient work, the quality of our software and reliable management of implementation projects. We regularly update our software solutions to provide clients with modern products using the most up-to-date technological trends. FINAMIS specializes in two main system development areas:

> System and process support for investment financial services in the area of asset and risk management

We provide technological and business know-how in matters related to capital markets and financial services. We are continuously expanding our knowledge based on our clients' needs and legislative duties related to asset management. We develop software as a product. The concept of product development with subsequent customization is a benefit for all our clients.

> Front-end and risk management for leasing companies

In 2005, the development of front-end leasing applications became part of the FINAMIS portfolio. Gradually, a separate team was built up with professional leasing business expertise. For over 10 years, the team has developed and supported the front-end system of UniCredit Leasing, a long-standing leader on the local market.

One of the benefits of cooperating with us is our reputation as a reliable fin-tech supplier, which is a result of our projects delivered within the agreed deadlines and budgets and an excellent knowledge of our clients' needs. Our vision is to cooperate on the basis of a partnership leading to long-term and stable business relations with our clients.
